

SS27 • DAY COLLECTION

The Fuchsia Hour

Runway review • Milan, 19 September

MAISON LUMIÈRE • CREATIVE DIRECTION

THE SHOW

Today's running order

01

Morning Light

Linen, cotton and open air

02

Silhouettes

Fluid cuts, bare shoulders, chiffon

03

The Fuchsia Finale

One colour, twelve looks

THE INSPIRATION

White walls, high noon, one flash of colour

The collection starts in the whitewashed villages of the south, where the light is so strong that colour has to be brave to be seen.

THE DESIGNER

Inès Morel

Creative Director, Maison Lumière

Trained in Lyon and Milan, Morel joined the house in 2019. Her collections pair strict tailoring with fabrics that move, and never more than one colour at a time.

THE COLOUR

One colour. Every look.

Twelve looks, one shade: a deep fuchsia that holds its own against white linen and southern light.

FABRICS & CRAFT

Chiffon, silk, sunlight

Silk chiffon cut on the bias and hand-finished hems, made to move with every step on the runway.

LOOK 07

The Noon Dress

Fabric
Silk chiffon, double layer

Cut
Bias, open shoulders

Length
Knee, hand-rolled hem

BACKSTAGE

Ten minutes to showtime
