

AW27 • EVENING COLLECTION

The Gold Hour

Runway review • Milan, 14 March

MAISON LUMIÈRE • CREATIVE DIRECTION

THE SHOW

Tonight's running order

01

Arrival

Daywear turns to dusk

02

Silhouettes

Fluid cuts, bare shoulders, satin

03

The Gold Finale

One colour, twelve looks

THE INSPIRATION

Dark streets, late hours, one gleam of gold

The evening collection begins where the day ends: the same white walls, now lit by lamps, candles and the last glow of the city.

THE DESIGNER

Inès Morel

Creative Director, Maison Lumière

For her evening work, Morel trades sunlight for lamplight: sharper cuts, heavier silks, and gold used the way others use jewellery.

#E8BA30

THE COLOUR

One colour. Every light.

Twelve looks in a single gold, cut to catch every flash, candle and chandelier in the room.

FABRICS & CRAFT

Satin, silk, lamplight

Duchess satin and silk charmeuse with hand-finished hems, cut to catch the light with every step.

LOOK 07

The Midnight Dress

Fabric
Silk satin, double-faced

Cut
Bias, open shoulders

Finish
Gold thread, hand-rolled hem

BACKSTAGE

Ten minutes to curtain

MAISON LUMIÈRE • AW27

At night, black disappears. Gold is what walks out of it.
